Background

Volunteers have been involved in almost every area of activity since the inception of Keppel Bay Sailing Club Ltd (the Club) in 1957. Without the past commitment and contribution of volunteers, the Club would not have achieved its present level of success. Similarly, without ongoing contributions by effective volunteers it is unlikely that the Club can continue to achieve its sailing, social and community goals and enjoy the level of success it currently does.

The Club's volunteer program brings substantial benefit to:

- Our members, by providing them with an opportunity for direct involvement in the day to day running of the sport of sailing.
- Our organisation, by bringing specialist advice and skills into the organisation and through the provision of additional human resources to particular programs.

- The wider community, by providing an avenue for community participation in specific sailing activities or events or the organisation as a whole.

The contribution of volunteers remains vital to the Club's operations. The Club recognises and values the reciprocal nature of the relationship between the Club and individuals and is committed to providing a volunteer program which both:

- Supports the Club's vision and mission; and
- Meets the expectations and needs of individual volunteers.

Definition

The Club's definition of volunteering is as follows: Volunteering is an activity, which takes place through the Club to enable the progression of the Club's vision or the operation of specific activities or projects, and is:

- Of benefit to the community and the volunteer;
- Undertaken of the volunteer's own free will and without coercion;
- For no financial payment;
- In a position not designated as paid; and
- Underpinned by the guidelines within Volunteering Australia.

General Principles

The Club embraces the following principles of volunteering:

- Volunteering benefits the community and the volunteer.
- Volunteering is always a matter of choice.
- Volunteering is an activity that is unpaid and not undertaken for the receipt of salary, pension, government allowance or honorarium.
- Volunteering is a legitimate way in which citizens can participate in the activities of their community.
- Volunteers should not replace paid employees nor constitute a threat to the job security of paid employees.
- Volunteering respects the rights, dignity and culture of others.
- Volunteering promotes and encourages equality.

Philosophy

The Club values the contribution made by volunteers and seeks to recognize that by:

- Acknowledging that the relationship between volunteers and the Club is a reciprocal one;
- Acknowledging that volunteers exercise free choice in committing to the Club;
- Acknowledging that volunteers are of equal status and deserve the same treatment and respect as paid employees, and that the Club can expect the same standards of its volunteers as it expects of its paid employees;
- Ensuring volunteers only carry out work that they have agreed to;
- Stating and acknowledging the contribution of volunteers in the Club documentation and recording hours contributed;

- Providing an opportunity for the development of skills and experience;
- Providing support in the form of clear policy guidelines, training, recognition and support, and the provision of references if required.

Purpose

The purpose of our volunteer program is to:

- Recruit and maintain a committed group of volunteers who assist with activities at the Club;
- Attempt to provide volunteers with the level of responsibilities and involvement that meet their expectations.

Recruitment Policy

The Club's recruitment policy is intended to fulfil the needs of our club and the expectations of our volunteers.

- The Club applies the principles of equal opportunity to its volunteer recruitment processes.
- Prospective volunteers are to be matched to existing positions based on their suitability and experience. Suitability for each position depends upon the particular skills needed to fulfil the duties of that position.
- Commitment to the goals, values, policies and procedures of the Club will be required as will be the ability to work as part of a team and the acceptance of the relevant roles and responsibilities.

Induction

All volunteers are to be offered induction within 3 months of commencement. The purpose of the induction is to;

- Discuss any particular expectations regarding volunteering.
- Get to know volunteers ie: their background, what they are doing now, their applicable skills.
- Determine their availability and their intended level of commitment.
- Discuss the areas in which volunteers can commit to.
- Ask about any special needs or limitations the Club should be aware of.
- Be provided with a Volunteer's Handbook.
- Be introduced to relevant members of staff. Staff to be informed as to the volunteer's duties and who they will be working with.

- Be shown staff facilities and amenities.
- Receive safety training.

Reference Checks

If the Sailing Committee deems it appropriate, the volunteer may be asked for work or character references before further placement at the Club. Volunteers should be made aware that they may be required to obtain a Blue Card (working with children check).

Training

Supervisors are expected to provide adequate training to enable their volunteers to carry out their duties. Supervisors are responsible for their volunteers while they are learning to use Club equipment and must make themselves available to help when needed.

Volunteers are to be encouraged to develop and expand their personal skills to maintain and enhance the Club's effectiveness. Specific training for volunteers will be provided where required and wherever possible at a portion of the cost or no cost to volunteers. Examples might include but are not limited to: powerboat and rescue boat certification, radio operators, first aid certification, food handling, race results inputs and race management training.

Rights and Responsibilities of Volunteers

Volunteers have a right to:

- Receive adequate information and a clear role description of what is expected and to understand why they are doing a task and how it fits into the broader program;

- Have their personal details kept in a confidential manner;

that might affect the volunteer's ability to undertake certain tasks; and

Review

This Sailing Volunteer Policy and Procedures and relevant documents will be reviewed regularly, at least every three years. This review will be conducted by the Sailing Committee.

The Club is committed to constantly improving the Club's Volunteer Policy and all feedback regarding the volunteer's
